

“Everyday Heroes”

Words & Music by Randy Mayfield

CHORUS:

They’re everyday heroes, ‘cause they’re heroes every-day
Giving everything they have to give to protect and keep us safe.
Yes, they’re everyday heroes, they choose to live this way
So we honor and remember all their lives and deeds today.

Vs. 1

From early morning roll call to patrolling late at night
Our heroes serve unselfishly, with all their strength and might
Through fire and rain they fight through the pain and then they do it all over again
To protect and serve, to sacrifice, courage running through their veins.

CHORUS:

Yea, they’re everyday heroes, ‘cause they’re heroes every-day
Giving everything they have to give to protect and keep us safe.
Yea, They’re everyday heroes, and they choose to live this way
So we honor and remember all their lives and deeds today.

Vs. 2

Bravery and devotion, determination in their soul
They’re always prepared, always ready for action, and they’re always ready to roll.
And when they have to face endless days, always standing strong up in harms way
You’d best be served to listen up, and to heed the words they say...

“You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say can and will be used against you in a court of law. You have the right to an attorney. If you cannot afford an attorney, one will be provided for you...”

CHORUS:

They’re everyday heroes, ‘cause they’re heroes every-day
Giving everything they have to give to protect and keep us safe
They’re everyday heroes... and they choose to live this way
So we honor and remember all their lives and deeds today.

- Instrumental guitar solo ***

Bridge:

They’re doing it now, the sirens wail
They stretch into the fires of hell
And in the streets the thin blue line prevails
But, let us never forget... That they’re everyday heroes!

Chorus: 2x

Tag instrumental and final line; “They’re Everyday Heroes!”
